Deep Blue Tournament

By Indisgretchen

The FFF B team recently attended the 4th Annual Deep Blue Tournament in South Lake Tahoe. Due to a shortage of players that could make the trip, we combined efforts with some amazing skaters from the Wine Town Rollers. This tournament consisted of 10 teams from California competing for a trophy, medals, and bragging rights.

The Flyers began the tournament with a win against the Auburn Outlaws. Our teamwork was strong and our jammers were selfless. Due to bracketing dynamics, we did not have another game until Sunday morning which pitted us against the Lagunatics, a neighboring team from Southern California. They had previously beaten us this season, so we were all excited to have the chance to play these women again. The air was very thin and frigid cold. As we fought to close the lead the Lagunatics had taken, our players were beginning to get injured. With eight minutes left on the clock and our shorthanded team incurring injuries to our players which required medical attention, our coaches and captains made the tough decision to withdraw and forfeit the tournament. No team ever wants to have to make the decision to forfeit, but our players' safety was our utmost concern. It proved to be right decision for our team, and all of the other teams were very understanding and supportive. It showed how strong we are as a team, and that taking care of our skaters is a priority. Misery Loves Company from San Jose took first place in the tournament. Second went to the amazing Lagunatics from Laguna Hills, and Modesto area's Sintral Valley Derby Girls placed third. We want to congratulate every team that participated and worked so hard. This was a challenging tournament, and the wins were well-deserved. The Foothill Foxy Flyers are hoping to attend again next year for the 5th Annual Deep Blue Tournament, in possibly the most beautiful location we've ever played!

Fox Finder

Everybody put your (jazz) hands in the air and say yeah, yeah, yeah for our October Fox Michelle "Mikki Syxx" Whisler. Mikki, co-founder and Vice President for FFF, comes from Rancho Cucamonga and is a high school dance teacher. Her athletic background is in dance and Mikki can often be seen throwing in a fancy spin move or jazz hands when she's on the track. We can always depend on her to get the dancing started at the after party and she brings as many of us along as she can convince to join her. She says coming up with her derby name was pretty simple; she combined her lifelong nickname with a touch of rebel rocker Nikki Sixx of Mötley Crüe and Mikki Syxx was born. Choosing to wear the number 6 was kind of a no-brainer. Mikki says she has been extremely proud watching the league grow from 10 players to 3 teams with great coaches, a great ref crew, fantastic NSOs and a dedicated fan base. One of her biggest accomplishments has been coming back strong after recovering from a major injury. She prepares for games by having a Red Bull with her sister and co-founder Jenna Ferocious. Mikki loves derby road trips, but especially enjoys relaxing at home, spending time with family and catching a concert in Vegas from time to time.
